Charles was a consultant in my current company. I found him to be very knowledgeable in his field. I felt confident in trusting any industry information he would share with me. He was like my mentor and in a short space of time, I learnt a lot about how to write specs and what vital content to include. Charles is a warm and kind person and I wish our paths could cross again.

Jovanka Damjanovic

I had a pleasure of working with Charles for the last 18 months, as his client, with him as an Engagement Director for L&T Infotech. With his leadership, experience, integrity and straight-forwardness he quickly became our trusted partner, and from then on continued building the constructive and mutually beneficial relationship. He has demonstrated remarkable skill in bridging the gap between two diverse institutions, and with great risk management ability and strong delivery focus he managed to advance the engagement. I have no hesitation in strongly recommending Charles for any management consulting/IT leadership type of engagement.

During my time at Absa, I had the pleasure of working with Charles to formulate the business plan and contract to implement the TU helpdesk services into the Absa Call Centre. It was with Charles' leadership and knowledge of both the Absa environment and the TU head office environment that the project was implemented on schedule and ran its course of 3 years as a very successful outsourcing initiative. Charles' ability to negotiate solutions and to constructively implement these solutions are the qualities that made the partnership workable at all levels. This initiative received industry and Government recognition as a key success in the creation of job opportunities in the BPO sector in SA.

It has been an honor and a pleasure working for and working with Charles. I was first his vendor while he was CIO at TransUnion. After, when an opportunity presented itself, my company did not hesitate to engage him as our Regional Partner in South Africa. Charles brings with him some serious management experience and deep IT expertise, and can teach most people a thing or two. I have always admired his integrity and straight-forwardness. He is extremely well traveled, culturally sensitive and approachable. He will be the first person I call if an opportunity presents itself in the MESA region.

I had the privilege of working with Charles in a couple positions at the same company – he has an in-depth understanding of modern IT technologies coupled with solid experience of IT solutions. Charles is a proactive and customer-service oriented individual, who is responsible, efficient and effective in “getting the job done”

I had the opportunity to manage the offshore development and solution delivery under the strategic leadership of Charles for 3 years that also allowed me to observe Charles as an empathetic and effective Leader and a Role Model I would love to emulate. Charles is a magician who could effortlessly distill the essence of the situation, diffuse the tension, resolve the conflicts in an unbiased manner, expedite action with a down-to-earth approach and focus on priorities. He was very approachable, pragmatic and empowered our team to facilitate the solution delivery despite the constraints imposed from internal and external factors. Thanks Charles for making such a difference to our careers!

Charles Le Roux was employed by TransUnion from April 1997 as a Business Analyst in the Finance Department, which he later was promoted to Development Manger, IT Director and then to Group CIO and was responsible for the South Africa Information Technology Dept. Charles has excellent communication skills. In addition, he is extremely organized. He can work independently and is able to follow through to ensure that the job gets done. He is flexible and willing to work on any project that is assigned to him. Charles was quick to volunteer to assist in other areas of company operations, as well. Charles would be a tremendous asset for your company and has my highest recommendation.

Sakkie Burger

Delivering ICT services to TUCB, BCX (myself) has been working with Charles le Roux as a key and strategic client to BCX. Charles' work profile as CIO manifested in his ability to understand the Business IT needs, coverting that into business requirements specifications to which BCX had to deliver various services. In negotiating contracts, he is perceived as a strong negotiator, though always fair in the approach and process. In managing service levels, you clearly know what he wants. He is a man of integrity, always willing to understand your complexities and challenges, wrking with you resolve those to the benefit of all parties. Strategically he played a major role in taking TUCB to the next level.

I worked alongside Charles for nearly seven years at TransUnion. Charles has a very real "role up your sleeves" and "get it done" attitude. Couple that with deep hands-on knowledge across all areas of the business that Charles has (customers, technology and negotiation skills) and you have the makings of a fine CIO. One of Charles's greatest strengths is his natural leadership. He has an amazing ability to seek out the answers based on data and facts and present them to teams to help make key decisions. I would recommend Charles for any business or position you are considering because I know he will get the job done for you. -Johan Johst-
