LaGuardia Airport (LGA), Terminal B in New York City serves as the home base for Southwest Terminal Laguardia. To enhance the traveler experience, major upgrades were performed to Terminal B, also referred to as the Central Terminal Building. It now provides quicker security checks, additional dining alternatives, and contemporary facilities. Southwest travelers at LGA benefit from easy access to the airport's recently built concourse, which features spacious waiting areas, contemporary gate lounges, and a range of retail businesses.
